WEST COAST FILES ANSWER

Insurance Company Says Deceased Made Misstatements at Time Insured.

The West Coast Life Insurance company has filed its answer in the case of Nettie C. Armstrong of Ogden, who is suing the company for $315 in the district court. Mrs. Armstrong alleges that the amount asked is due on a life insurance policy held by her late husband.

According to the bill of complaint, Isaac Armstrong carried a valid policy at the time of his death, March 10, 1910, and that his death was due to injuries sustained by an accidental fall on February 25 of the same year. It is also claimed that the policy was made payable to the plaintiff.

In the defendant's answer all these allegations are denied. The company charges that at the time the policy was drawn the insured stated he was not engaged or associated in any way with the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors, and that they learned later that this statement was untrue, as Armstrong was at that time tending bar at a certain club in Ogden. The answer further states that Armstrong continued to tend bar and that the company has not received sufficient evidence to convince it that the insured died of injuries due to the fall as stated in the bill of complaint.

BATTLE OF CLEVER MEN

Both of the fighters who are to take part in the twenty-round fight to be pulled off at the Ogden Fair grounds, next Thursday night, are now, on the ground, ready for the match.

Joe Thomas, for the past fifteen days has been training in San Francisco, but was in Ogden Friday and conferred with Roy Shumway of the Ogden Athletic club, who is promoting the bout. Thomas is now training at the Salt Palace in Salt Lake City.

Thomas will be remembered by fight fans as the maker of Stanley Ketchel, having met Ketchel four times. Two of these battles were for twenty rounds, each man staying the limit and each winning an event. In their third contest, Ketchel defeated Thomas by a knockout in the thirty-second round. In the last bout Ketchel won in the twelfth, but he had nothing to spare, as the fight was a desperately close one.

He will be a hard man for Terry Keller to clean, but the native son has yet to be knocked out and his friends are banking on his ability to turn the trick. Terry is training at Idlewild and is in the pink of condition. The local boy's record speaks for itself. He has won twenty-three fights out of twenty-eight and has never been put to sleep for the count. He has met the best of Oakland and San Francisco's boxers. Game to the core, he has been punching his way toward the top and means to get there.

Charley Cleaver, his manager, will be in Ogden today. Cleaver is a heavyweight, with an avoirdupois of 255 pounds. He carries a roll of the long green that looks like a bundle of laundry and he will drop a few of the yellow wrappers in this city during his stay.

In addition to the big bout on the 25th, there are to be two good preliminaries. The first of these will be between Ogden's best 140-pound man, "Two-Round" Farley, and Kid Rose of Salt Lake City. This will be a six-round battle and is expected to be a live exhibition of boxing. Eddie Mathewson of Ogden will box six rounds with Eddie Weber of San Francisco and this, too, will be a wide-awake performance.

The referee for these contests has not been appointed, but it is expected that Tom Painter will officiate in the ring.

Fat Troubles

Dangerous Symptoms Dispelled. The condition of the body which causes a rapid change from mere corpulence to positive corpulency is fraught with many dangers, and the symptoms are very often distressing.

The almost asthmatic shortness of breath, the palpitation of the heart after a little exertion, and so on, are due to the accumulation of internal fatty matter, and to its constant interference with the functional activity of the heart, kidneys and lungs. This perilous state of things needs to be looked into without further delay.

Avoid existing without neglecting fresh air, take plenty of rest, eat wholesome food—satisfy your appetite rationally, and get a druggist to make up the following prescription: 1-2 oz. Marmola, 1-2 oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 2-12 oz. Peppermint Water. If you like you can get the ingredients and mix them yourself, shaking them well together in a good-sized clean bottle. Of this harmless mixture take a dose of one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

All the discommoding symptoms will very soon be dispelled and your weight will diminish daily in a most surprising way. Very stout men and women have effected as much as 14 pounds in a single day on commencing this simple home treatment.

The improvement in the general health is quite remarkable, as is evidenced by the clear skin and bright, healthy complexion. It is really an amazing transformation.

REGRET MISTAKES AT GRETN GREEN

Unhappy Wives Bewail Day They Went to Farmington to Marry.

Salt Lake, July 23.—Herald—Weeping bitterly as she told of the beatings received from her husband during their short married life, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell added her sad story in the divorce matinee yesterday in the long list of romantic Farmington marriages. Mrs. Mitchell was married to Ole Mitchell at Farmington, on February 14, 1910, and told Judge T. D. Lewis, who had charge of the divorce proceedings in the district court yesterday, that she had been mistreated almost from the time they returned to Salt Lake.

She said that on several occasions Ole had struck her with his fists and had beaten her to the floor, once beating her upon the back so severely that she was forced to go to a physician. As the young wife wept, her husband sat in the court room, and Judge Lewis called him to the stand. Mitchell admitted that he had beaten his wife at times when he "felt sore" and did not have any good reason for it, except that once his wife had refused to press his trousers. Judge Lewis handed down an interlocutory decree to the wife, and it looked for a time as if he would deal severely with her husband.

Hoosier Marriage Unhappy. Elizabeth B. Smith received a decree from Obad H. Smith, whom she married in Covington, Ind., on May 14, 1882. They have seven children, but the wife complained of her husband's cruelty and drunkenness. She received all of the household goods, some growing crops, $30 a month for the support of the family, and $50 attorney's fees.

Delia Battin told of the desertion of her husband, James M. Battin, and Judge Lewis granted the decree. They were married in Omaha on September 1, 1887, and have four children. She received $20 a month alimony.

Jane Mayers received a divorce from L. Mayers, whom she married at Provo, on July 29, 1903. Non-support was charged.

Mary A. Tillett says she has not seen her husband sober in the last ten months, but that only one of the reasons she gave yesterday for asking a divorce from John H. Tillett. They were married at Salt Lake February 6, 1906, and through her husband's cruelty and neglect Mrs. Tillett says she has been obliged to take in washing to support herself and stand for his drunkenness and abuse in the meantime, until he drove her from their home last May. Mrs. Tillett asks for $20 a month alimony.

Desertion more than one year ago and failure to provide for her wants are the charges made by Jessie M. Ringel in her suit for divorce brought yesterday against George L. Ringel. They were married October 8, 1902, at Covington, Kentucky.

Another Farmington Error. Mabel C. Altire received a divorce from Percie B. Altire, whom she married at Farmington, Ind., on July 1, 1902. Their marriage being another Farmington mistake which happened on the last day of 1906. The divorce was granted on the ground of non-support, and Miss Altire became Miss Bessie C. King.

W. H. Bowman says Bessie Bowman is a "holy terror" in his suit for divorce brought yesterday. Of course Bowman doesn't use that expression, but a free translation of legal terms of the complaint is to the effect that his wife took pleasure in beating him to a frazzle on various occasions. Bowman says his wife deserted him in November last year and since then has been living a life remote from the straight and narrow path. That he knew of her she was living at 607 Grove street, Boise, Idaho, under the name of Bessie Foster.

Julia L. Denhalter says her husband, Henry C. Denhalter, comes home frequently under the influence of liquor and makes the painful and dangerous for her. They were married at Salt Lake, July 31, 1905. Mrs. Denhalter says she has nothing excepting some household goods at their home, 826 Ouray avenue, and, stating that her husband earns $75 a month driving a delivery wagon, she wants whatever is right in the way of temporary and permanent alimony and temporary and permanent attorney fees and costs.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT MALARIAL POISONING

Malaria is a systemic blood poison, a disease which gradually destroys the richness and nourishing elements of the blood. When the malarial poison begins to absorb the rich, red corpuscles of the circulation we see pale, sallow complexions, and a general impairment of health. But Malaria means more than this, and as the blood becomes weaker from the poison, the appetite fails, digestion is disturbed, chills and slight fever are frequent, and in aggravated cases boils and eruptions, liver spots, and even abscesses break out on the flesh. To sum it all up, Malaria means blood poverty, and the only way to cure the trouble is to enrich and purify the blood. Nothing is equal to this, and as the blood becomes weaker from the poison, the appetite fails, digestion is disturbed, chills and slight fever are frequent, and in aggravated cases boils and eruptions, liver spots, and even abscesses break out on the flesh.
